Took Young Son to California When She Left Husband, He Went There and Took Boy Away—Mother Has Come Back Across Continent to Claim Babe—Guarded by Father, Who Fears Another Kidnapping.

GREENFIELD, May 5.—After a flight and pursuit of 6,000 miles, across the continent to Los Angeles, for the possession of her eighteen-months-old son, Mrs. Anna Deveney Powers has returned to Greenfield, and declares that she will exhaust every resource of law and of woman's wit to regain the custody of the boy.

The reported illness of the boy brought her back from Los Angeles, after her husband, Michael J. Powers, had followed her to that place, and, as she declares, kidnapped the child. With Mrs. Powers and the boy at the time, her husband declares, was a man who called himself David A. Tobey, said to be of Boston.

BOY CAREFULLY GUARDED. Powers is living at the Franklin House here with the boy, who is carefully guarded, for his mother should regain possession of him.

Mother and father, each of whom has traveled the 6,000 miles to get the boy, are equally determined that he shall not remain in the other's custody. Mrs. Powers declares that she will get the baby at whatever cost and so the father is prepared to prevent it.

"NOT MY HUSBAND," SAYS MRS. TOBEY

The Boston Directory carries the name of only one David A. Tobey, a former State agent, securities salesman, whose home is No. 42 York terrace, Melrose Highlands. Mr. Tobey's former associates say he is in California for his health.

Democrats in State Convention Declare for the New York Congressman by 150 Majority—26 National Convention Delegates Added to the Hearst Column.

By Boston American Leased Wire. DEN MOINES, May 5. The United Democratic of Iowa, by convention, by a majority of more than 150 votes, instructed its executive delegates to go to Iowa to vote first, last and always for William H. Hearst, for the Democratic nomination for the office of President of the United States.

The friends of Hearst were in a majority in the caucus, but their opponents were led by shrewd politicians and sought by all the means of which they were masters to prevent the convention from selecting for its choice. There was a fight over the platform and a fight against the nomination.

Protective Wall Saves Trusts. "Every trust magnate knows that as long as the protective wall is secure his mastery over the masses of the people is assured. In the great struggle to drive the principle of free trade from the minds of the people and to secure the maintenance of the protective wall, the trusts are united in a common purpose."

CARTOONIST CARLL SHOWS HOW SANDY FERGUSON IS TRAINING FOR HIS BOUT WITH MARVIN HART

FERGUSON SAYS, "KEEP YOUR EYE ON SANDY"

If coincidence has anything to do with the winning of prize fights Sandy Ferguson has Marvin Hart down and out and the long green hooked up in the pocket at the present moment.

"Why, I broke that fellow's nose once and this time I'll put it all over him and break his face," said the victor, who, as his trainer and manager, Alex McLean, was giving him his morning workout in the quarters at the River Beach Club. "I'll give him a good one, and he'll be glad to get it."

Ferguson was a little out of breath when he came out of the gym, but he was not at all tired. He had a good appetite, and he was looking forward to his next fight.

"I'll have to carry him home on a stretcher," said McLean, who was looking at Ferguson's face. "You're a little out of breath, but you're not tired. You're a champion."

JACK ROOT MEET LANKY BOB

By Boston American Leased Wire.
CHICAGO, May 5.—"I am now waiting for an answer from Fitzsimmons," said M. Felt, manager of the Waverly Athletic Club. "Root has already agreed to the terms."

Jack Root and Robert Fitzsimmons will surely face one another in the ring arena. Root's sensational defeat of George Gardner has brought the Bohemian as one of the strongest contenders for the world's light heavyweight championship.

Several clubs are after the Fitzsimmons fight, and it is not clear that one of them will land the attraction within the next week or two. The last offer to make by the Waverly Club, of this city, Matchmaker Felt promising to bring up a prize of $10,000. Root at once agreed to the proposition.

"I will not rest until I have signed my name to articles of agreement with Bob Fitzsimmons," said Root. "I have been a fighter and now I want a chance at him."

In the case of the Waverly Club succeeds in landing the match the management counts on drawing the largest house that has gathered to witness a prize fight here in two years.

FILLEY TO STROKE HARVARD VARSITY

Oliver D. Filley, '98, will stroke the Harvard varsity crew. This seat has been the only one which has given Coach Cabot any worry, and he has tried a number of men there. Of these Filley has shown up the best, and has fairly won his place. He is a quiet, "never die" athlete, and the coaches think he is just the kind of a man for the varsity boat. Last year while the freshmen crew was in the water, Filley was considered quite a feat, for freshmen seldom win a race with the varsity. Filley hails from St. Louis. He was prepared for college at Rugby, a famous English "prep" school, and there learned to row as only English schoolboys know. His magnificent training there really won him the prize and a seat on the varsity shell as soon as he entered Harvard.

FRESHIES MAY TAKE A BRACE MANY ENTRIES FOR STAKES

As the time for the annual Freshman regatta draws near, the teams are rounding into shape. At present everything looks like the '98. The freshmen have been putting up a decent game since they started, and will have to take quite a brace if they expect to win the cup.

The sophomore team is already well known for its phenomenal hitting and its speed. The freshmen team, which will be the last to enter the water, will have to take a good deal of practice. The freshmen team is not so good as the sophomore team, but they are not so bad as the freshman team. Special to Boston American.
STANFORD, Ga., May 5.—With a right jolt to the jaw, Tommy Feltz, of Brooklyn, knocked out "Kid" McFadden, of St. Francis, in the fifth round of what was to have been a twenty-round bout for a decision.

Feltz had all the best of the game from the start. He began the first round with a left jab that landed on McFadden's head, and after a little sparring sent a right to the same spot. He followed this with a left jab that landed on McFadden's head, and after a little sparring sent a right to the same spot. ASHLEY TO BOX SULLIVAN

When Tommy Sullivan and Guy Ashley box at Lawrence, before the West End A. C. on May 14, there will be some heavy prize. They fight for the championship of the State. From Fall River and New Bedford a big bunch of sports boys, who have been on hand to watch their favorite has the wallops. It's up to Tommy, who, like all fellows, knows cockfight. His partners say he's the money, nothing to it.
